Australian Bream Tournaments (ABT) runs a series of successful live weigh in and release tournaments across Australia, where the promotion of ethical and enjoyable fishing occurs. The events not only result in minimal environmental impact to the waterways in which they are run but they also deliver a range of benefits and advantages to the local and broader community. Economically, the tournament brings with them an injection of income that is experienced by businesses within the tackle and boating industry, as well as those outside the sector, such as accommodation providers, food and beverage outlets.
